

Dear Parents/Carers,

In light of Boris Johnson's announcement this evening about the closure of schools to pupils other than those who are considered vulnerable and those of critical workers, all DGAT schools will be effectively closed tomorrow (Tuesday 5 January); this is to enable staff to safely organise both the in school provision and the remote learning.

As Minchinhampton we are asking you, the parents, to do everything you can to find alternative provision for tomorrow. If however you are a critical key worker and you have no other means of childcare, we will provide childcare for your child. Please contact us on the school admin email admin@minchschoo.net if you require this before start of school tomorrow morning.

We fully appreciate that this will cause great inconvenience but we had no prior warning that this was to happen.

We will communicate promptly with you in the morning to explain the situation further.

We appreciate your support at this time

Yours sincerely
Mr Moss
